Overview

The *Criminal Records Review Act* ensures that people who work with or may have potential for unsupervised access to children or vulnerable adults undergo a criminal record check by the Criminal Records Review Program (CRRP).

Volunteers and employees who undergo criminal record checks in accordance with the Criminal Records Review Act will obtain a web link and unique access code from their registered volunteer or employer organization, to make their own Criminal Record Check submission.

An applicant can share the results of a previous valid criminal record check at no cost with other organizations enrolled or registered with the CRRP.

The first checkbox is unchecked and states that the user must have completed a criminal record check within the last 5 years through the CRRP and that the sharing request must be for the same type of check as previously completed. The second checkbox is unchecked and states that the user confirms they have completed a criminal record check within the past five years with the CRRP which did not result in a determination of risk to children and/or vulnerable adults, and they understand that only the result will be disclosed. The third checkbox is unchecked and states that the user understands that if the Registrar determines they do not have a criminal record check to share, they will be promptly notified. There are red asterisks at the end of each checkbox text.

After selecting the check boxes in the consent, select Continue.

The screenshot shows the final step of the consent form. It contains one checked checkbox with text stating that the user understands that within 5 years of completing this form, should the CRRP make a determination that they pose a risk to children and/or vulnerable adults, the Deputy Registrar will promptly provide notification to them and to the persons and entities identified on the form. There are red asterisks at the end of the text. At the bottom left is a "Cancel and Exit" button, and at the bottom right is a "Continue" button, which is circled in red.
